I am okay with HQ's proposed changes to make it less technical for the lay reader. Wanted to run it by the group-before I gave concurrence.

Hi Brenda,

The San Mateo narrative was a bit overly technical so I did my best to dumb it down without losing any context. Please take a look and let me know if it works.

Also, if the site is actually on Navajo land (rather than just impacting it), you will need a tribal concurrence letter in addition to the state's.

Thanks.

Terry
